A contract had just been concluded by the minister of state with Messrs Larrago, Vogel & Malo, to es tablish and run a monthly steamship line be-tween some Mexican port (probably Guaymas) and Japan and China—they are to receive $19,600 for each round trip

A St. Louis father listened for two hour while his daughter and her "regular company" occupied one corner of the sofa, and this was the sole coversation: He.—"If lovie die what ud dovie do !" She—"Dovie die, too Now if "dovie" lived in Honolulu, and "I vie" really cared for "dovie," he would have Lovell bave made them "de-ko ra-tive" and the twain would have talked about art

A Spring poet in Maine, pathetically says 'I miss you, my darling, my darling," want you, my darling, my darling;"
call you, my darling, my darling;
need you, my darling, my darling,
He evidently does miss her—quite considera bly; but whether he wants her to sew on suspender botton or to pull off his boots, tails to state. And that reminds one that tails to state. And that reminds one that S. Cohn & Co. have now on hand some of the most elegantly service and serviceably elegant gentlemen's above and boots in Honolulu. Their children's clothing, also, is a specialty which is employed beautiful them.

gaining them a large trade. The people on Punch Bowl street clear down to School Street have been without water nearly two weeks, except as they carry it from the creek or their neighbours lower. Down the bridge and main water pipe across the Nuannu stream above the second bridge being washed away during the recent floods. Superintendent Wilson of the water works, has the new bridge well under way and the men are hard at work every day. Sundays not excepted. The piers are being built higher and stronger than before, and a large iron frame-work on which the main water pipe is to rest is being built at Wilson's blacksmith-shop on the Esplanaste. It is to be hoped that the water will soon be supplied again as the Pauon stream is getting very liithy for drinking purposes. The people on Punch Bowl street clear down
